A FEAST OF SPEEDWAY

It's here at last, the night a lot of Long Eaton Speedway folk have been looking forward to, the Double Header. A three hour feast of speedway racing featuring one of the most famous club names in the world - Wimbledon - and the inevitable thrills and spills of Junior Grand Prix racing.

London South West seventeen, the area known as Wimbledon, is always in the news at this time of year, something to do with doves/peas and cream being sold at inflated prices. And the area is sure to be the focus of attention on many a Sunday afternoon from September onwards now that the local soccer team has moved into the Big Time.

But to many thousands of speedway followers around the world the address, Plough Lane, Wimbledon, has always been synonymous with the world's number one club side. Anyone who doubts those words has obviously not been around when the likes of Ronnie Moore, Barry Briggs, Ole Nygren, Ron How and the late Tommy Jansson pulled on the famous yellow star racing jacket. Nor can they have been to what is probably the best appointed and most luxurious motor sport stadium in the country.

Sadly, times are not what they were in GW 17. Many thousands of Dons followers have come - and gone - leaving the threat of closure hanging over Plough Lane. The switch to National League, in the hope of recapturing the Glory Days, has not as yet worked out. It will be a sad, and possibly ominous, day for the sport if the closure notices go up to end an unbroken run stretching back to 1961.

The Junior Grand Prix series is now well under way but it seems to be suffering from a lack of interest in high places and indeed from some of the tracks involved. At Long Eaton we are proud to be staging the event and we're just a bit sorry that, due to the original rain-off, the lads couldn't have the stage all to themselves. We hope they enjoy the Long Eaton Round - and we hope that you do too. Now, settle back and savour the Double Header.
