READING	40.0	48.0	RYE HOUSE	DATE:	09/05/2005
RESULT:	AWAY WIN	AGREGATE SCORE	80.0	103.0

IT was the turn of Reading fans this week to witness the might of Rye House and they must have been impressed by their solid team performance.

They were certainly too good for the Ideal Video Racers, whose perfonnnance was generally disappointing. Reading were not helped by the fact they were missing both their regular reserves, Chris Johnson (injured) and the unwell Matt Tresarrieu. Johnson's replacement Ben Barker scored four points including a win, but Dan Giffard was plagued by mechanical problems and didn't complete a single race. Rockets roared into a 5-1 lead in Heat 1 with Stuart Robson and Edward Kennett getting the better of Andrew Appleton and Chris Mills, and from then on they always looked the likely winners of this Premier Trophy match. Reading managed to outscore their visitors only on three occasions with the first two being by a 3-2 margin, where Barker beat Dan King in Heat 2, and Matej Zagar led home Chris Neath in Heat 7. Racers' best result was a 4-2 in Heat 13, which was by far the most exciting race on a night that saw little passing and was low in entertainment value. Andrew Appleton, who had managed only two points in his first three races, powered to a fine win over Robson with Zagar third and Brent Werner a close up fourth.

But Tommy Allen and King hit back with a 4-2 over Richard Wolff and Barker to regain an eight-point advantage for the Rockets, who were completing a double following their 15-point win at home last month.

Zagar topped the Racers' scoring with 12 points from five starts, while Neath was best for the Rockets with 13.

Apart from Harland Cook who was injured in his first race, all of the Rye House riders recorded at least one heat win.

King will remember his as it came at the expense of Zagar, arguably the best rider in the Premier League, but the young reserve was soon brought down to earth as he trailed home last in his next outing and managed only a third place in each of two following ride

RESULT:	HOME WIN	AGREGATE SCORE
---------	----------	----------------

ANYONE seeing this result will think it was another comfortable victory for the Rockets as they maintained their unbeaten home record. Those who witnessed a highly entertaining evening in Hoddesdon will know the scoreline doesn't come close to telling the full story. A depleted Reading line-up played their full part in pushing Rye House to the limit in the opening eight heats. It was only then the home side turned in the kind of powerful display that is fast becoming their trademark.

Two opening home maximums gave the impression it would be an easy night for the home supporters. Edward Kennett's quick gate in Heat 1 allowing him to post the fastest time of the season so far.

After Heat 3, though, It became clear Racers hadn't read the script, Zdenek Simota and Mat Tresarrieu showing the fight and determination their more experienced colleagues often lacked.

Simota held his nerve to go outside Brent Werner, Tresarrieu cutting Inside the Rockets skipper on lap two to set up the 5-1 .

Suddenly, for the first time this season at home, Rockets started to look nervous. Chris Neath had to come from the back in Heat 4 to share the points while Stuart Robson came to grief on the third lap of Heat 6 with Rye House holding a maximum advantage.

Uncharacteristically, Kennett lost control at the same spot in Heat 8 as the Racers continued to apply the pressure thanks to Tresarrieu's fence- hugging ride round Neath in the previous race.

Even when they are in trouble, good teams seem to be able to find inspiration from somewhere though, and it was Werner and Tommy Allen who provided some in Heat 9. Left at the start, the American Eagle produced a spectacular cut back on the second bend to emerge in the lead, while Allen, who went on to produce his highest score of the season, kept the disappointing Thorp at bay.

Suddenly the tide had turned. A 5-0 in the next heat, when both Simota and Tresarrieu pushed too hard, forced Tim Sugar to introduce Tresarrieu in Heat 11 for a tactical ride.

For once, Andrew Appleton made the gate and with Tresarrieu holding off Neath, the Racers looked to be right back in it. Appleton, though, eased down too soon to let his partner through on the fourth bend of the final lap, Neath showing great awareness to dart between the two Racers on the line to grab a vital second place. A tactical ride for Appleton in Heat 13 was the final roll of the die, but this time Robson and Neath made no mistake, the Rockets' fourth maximum in five heats sewing up the league points.

AGREGATE SCORE

ROCKETS followed up their win at Glasgow the previous night by staging a late rally to collect two points, plus the bonus, at Smallmead. But Racers will see this as a match they threw away, as they were leading 36-30 with four heats left.

Brent Werner and reserve replacement Tommy Allen reduced that deficit to two points in Heat 1 2 with a maximum over Richard Wolff, who was left as the sole Racer after Steve Masters had retired.

Racers were well poised for a 4-2 in the next race but that was until Andrew Appleton suffered problems on the last bend and lost third place to Stuart Robson.

Rye's luck was in and they capitalised on that with another 5-1 in the penultimate heat, this time from Allen and Danny King over Richard Wolff and Matt Tresarrieu.

So Racers were left needing a 5- 1 to snatch victory or a 4-2 to force a draw in the last heat. But it turned out to be an anti-climax as Zdenek Simota suffered a heavy fall on the second turn and was excluded from the re-run.

That was duly won by the unbeatable Matej Zagar with Bre Werner and Chris Neath just content to follow him home for the minor placings. Zagar's win was his fifth of the night, giving the Slovenian his second maximum on consecutive Mondays. He had to come from the back to win two of his rides but he left it late to pass Brent Werner in Heat 7.

Best support came from Simota, who maintained his improved run with 10 paid 11 before his last-heat disaster.

Appleton had one heat win on a night when little went right for him, but he was not alone. Masters managed just one point, making four starts and only two finishes.

Matt Tresarrieu, Richard Wolff and Chris Johnson also worked hard, but in the end their efforts went unrewarded.

Neath headed the Rye scorers with 11 paid 12 but their match winner was reserve Allen, who got better as the match wore on and finished with nine paid 11 from five starts.

AGREGATE SCORE

RYE HOUSE can surely start to prepare for the KO Cup final after taking a four-point lead from the away leg of their semi-final at Smallmead. Racers are not the best of travellers and it will probably be the biggest shock of the season if they manage to beat the Rockets on their home track.

There was very little to choose between the two sides on Monday in a match that saw the sides level going into the final heat, where home pair Matej Zagar and Andrew Appleton surprisingly conceded maximum points to Daniel King and Chris Neath.

The match had also started with a couple of shocks.

Stuart Robson, who usually goes, well at the Berkshire track, finished last behind Zagar, taking the first rider replacement outing, Edward Kennett and Sam Simota.

Then Luke Bowen, replacing Steve Boxall, capitalised on a fast gate to take the honours in Heat 2, but they were the only points he scored all night.

Heat 4 saw a rare home defeat for Zagar with Neath opening up a big lead over the last two laps.

Neath followed that up with another win in Heat 6, and at this stage the scores were level at 18-18.

But former Racer King and Brent Werner notched a 4-2 over Zagar in Heat 7 and then Kennett produced an electrifying burst past Simota to win Heat 8. The third-placed point from Tommy Allen extended Rye's lead to 26-22.

Another two points were added to their advantage when King came from the back to win Heat 10 from Simota and Werner.

A shared Heat 11 meant Racers were six points down with four races remaining.

But Appleton and Richard Wolff reduced the deficit with a 4-2 over Werner and Allen.

Then Zagar and Simota repeated the scoreline in the next race against Neath and Robson.

Mat Tresarrieu had only managed two third places in his first four starts, but the Frenchman came good in Heat 14 to beat King, with Wolff finishing third.

So it was all level going into the final heat with Racers looking to their big two, who both had three wins to their credit. But Appleton and Zagar were unable to catch King and Neath, and the four points gained will prove a useful base on which Rockets can make their charge towards another cup final.

VENUE	RYE HOUSE STADIUM	COMPETITION	K.O.C. SEMI FINAL 2nd LEG
-------	-------------------	-------------	---------------------------

RYE HOUSE	65.0	25.0	READING	DATE:	24/09/2005
RESULT:	HOME WIN	AGREGATE SCORE	112.0	68.0

SO much had been said in the build-up to this one that it was almost inevitable the action on the track would prove an anti-climax. Reading had made no secret of their feelings about the meeting going ahead without the majority of their foreign stars. Rye House had defended their position as the BSPA had made the final decision. As a result, the Racers arrived with three King's Lynn riders in their line-up - a move interpreted by the home side as an attempt to give an extra practice session to half of the team they will meet in the final. If that was the case, for the large part the plan misfired.

While providing over half the Racers' points, Ashley Jones, Kevin Doolan and Jan Jaros were probably left wondering about the size of the task they now face in the final.

Despite missing the injured Stuart Robson, the Rockets were in awesome form. Five consecutive maximums from the start put the contest effectively beyond the visitors' reach, each greeted by an ecstatic crowd. Doolan's second place in Heat 6, holding off an uncharacteristically inconsistent Edward Kennett, broke that cycle but offered little hope for a Reading side that failed to achieve a heat win all night.

Of the home riders, Daniel King, Chris Neath and Brent Werner all ended unbeaten by an opponent and King's paid maximum was just reward for an exciting display.

Both Neath and Werner looked head and shoulders above the opposition. Neath completed his tenth consecutive win around the Hoddesdon circuit since returning from injury in Heat 13. Darting between Jones and Doolan, he followed Kennett all the way until his team-mate slowed in the final straight to let him cross the line first.

With no tactical rides, Tim Sugar could only stand and watch as his side crumbled, although Mat Tresarrieu and Andrew Appleton did at least provide plenty of effort.
