Programme changes:

None.

NOTE: Brett was excluded following a first bend collision in the initial running of heat one. However, the meeting official changed his mind and reinstated Brett for the re-run. The Swindon rider duly went on to post a 15-point maximum and took the spoils of victory!

Programme changes:

Ht 11: TS Jansson for Cresp; Ht 14: Kilby replaced Debbage.

NOTE: Swindon tracked seven riders only, with Bowers moving up from his originally programmed position at No. 7 to replace Brian Brett – who had broken down en route to the stadium – whilst Kilby moved up from No. 8 to the No. 7 berth. This meant that the Robins were only able to track one representative in heats five and eleven. They also had no-one to replace Debbage in the re-run of heat four, since Kilby was already in the race.

Programme changes:

Ht 1: Kilby replaced Debbage; Ht 4: Cresp replaced Stevens; Bowers replaced Debbage; Ht 8: Bowers replaced Debbage; Ht 9: Cresp replaced Stevens; Ht 13: Kilby replaced Debbage.

NOTE: (1) The referee refused to let Debbage ride for Swindon in the main match, as he had previously ridden for Norwich in the season's National Trophy competition. This, despite the fact that Debbage had ridden for Swindon in the quarter-final versus Wimbledon!; (2) Teodorowicz over-slid and hit the safety fence coming out of the final bend in heat twelve. His foot rest subsequently caught in the wire fence, stopping him dead and throwing him from his machine. He was carried off to the pits badly dazed and it was felt he was suffering from concussion. Regrettably, later at the Poplar Hospital, in what can only be described as a terrible blunder by the medical staff, he was asked to take off his racing gear himself. When he bent down to remove his boots, his head filled with blood and he became unconscious. As a result, he was transferred to the London Hospital, where it was feared he had a skull fracture. For what seemed an eternity, he fought a battle for his life, but it was a fight he unfortunately lost on 22 January 1965, without ever regaining full consciousness. It was perhaps ironic that in his last match at Blunsdon on 22 August 1964, he had recorded a 12-point maximum against West Ham in a National League encounter.
