George Wilks was proving a real discovery. He was new to speedway in 1934 and was experienced on grass tracks. George was the sort of new talent the second division was aimed at. This was his 5th successive second division maximum.

Young Tommy Price however was having a tough time. He didn't make the grade and Harringay did not offer him a contract for 1935. Tommy found a place at Wembley and went on to become the first post war World Champion.
