The experiment of holding the Saturday meeting in the evening was not the success anticipated, the crowd being no greater than the previous Saturday afternoon.

The Golden Armlet 4th Heat was not run due to several riders unable to turn out. E Slade- Jones as fastest second was included in the final

Among the competitors was George Preston who, in the afternoon had beaten Ron Johnson and Buster Frogley at the Crystal Palace?

(George Preston was not in the Southern League race heats as he did not ride, so possibly in handicap race as part of second half programme?)

There was a fair attendance for the Bank Holiday Monday meeting though the threat of showery weather probably kept a good many people away.

In the first team match that had been raced on this track Aldershot lost to an unofficial Southampton team by three points.

R Seward dead heated for 2nd place in heat one of H/Cap race. He lost the toss with Coghlan to race in the final. Cooper was injured so he took his place instead.

Those who follow dirt track racing at Aldershot will regret to hear that no further meetings are to be held for the present.
