Whitley Bay had held their first meeting on 20 April and on 17 May Newcastle Brough Park became the second speedway track to open in the area attracting a crowd of over 15,000. The track was originally to have been built at Sunderland but this was found to be impossible because of the lack of a suitable site. The meetings were promoted by Newcastle Motor Racing Club Ltd and the emphasis was on individual meetings although Newcastle did enter the newly formed English Dirt Track League. The league was made up of northern teams. Six of the teams withdrew or were expelled during the season. The final league table was based on the matches that were run with the exclusion of the records of those tracks that failed to last the course. The team dropped out of the league at the end of the season.

The sport had only been introduced to the country in 1928 and this was the first season of league racing. Newcastle relied totally on local racers. The Creasor brothers from Middlesbrough, Gordon Byers, Percy Dunn, Ernie Smith and Bry Vincent from Sunderland, Phil Blake and Tommy Storey.

Reports including race results were very rare for this league and some newspaper reports give no more than the match score. As much detail as available has been provided and riders' scores and heat details have been provided where they could be found. In some cases assumptions have been made and, in particular, fourth placed riders as these were not always provided where heat details were recorded. In races four points were awarded for first place, two for second and one for third.
