Wimbeldon's Brad Oxley and Anders Eriksson both failed to arrive for the meeting. From Cryll Maidment's column in the Wimbledon programme dated 1 April 1982. Anders and Brad failed to arrive at Cradley Heath due to them breaking down two times when they were travelling together. After the first breakdown, Anders caught a taxi to collect his Lada. After attaching the bke trailer and number plate form the original striken vehicle. Brad was stopped for speeding on the motorway in the outside lane. As, they could not prove their identities, they were taken to a local police station. Once their identities were proven, they travelled to this fixture, however, arrived after the match, whereby, they both rode and finished thirds in their second-half races.

Reserve rider Jamie Luckhurst replaced Kelly Moran in the meeting. Alan Mogridge was named in the programme as a reserve rider, but because I had crossed out his name, he must have been announced that he was not present at the meeting. The programme cover for this meeting incorrectly states it being 'The Wimbledon Classic.'
